Painless Adoption
Teva implemented BlackLine before senior accountant Domingo Rojas arrived. Teva offices in the U.S. and South America are using BlackLine Account Reconciliations. “They love it!” says Rojas. “It’s user-friendly, saves time and money.” Plus, Teva knows the information is accurate.

The company loves the savings, the Sarbanes-Oxley (SOX) compliance, and the security of BlackLine. Another outstanding feature of Account Reconciliations is providing visibility for auditors. “BlackLine is a real advantage with auditors,” says Rojas. “It enables auditors to see what they need.”
